SYNOPSIS

Dina has not seen her three grown children for many years. They escaped from her excessive control and live abroad. She can't overcome her extreme fear of flying to visit them. She doesn't stand anymore without seeing them, and along with her friends she fakes her own funeral to force them to come and see her. But her plan will unleash madness! Who could think that this plan will work?

DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

Dina does believe that she is the best mother of the whole world: Cult, se considera la mejor madre del mundo: A learned woman, elegant, generous, kind... well, sometimes she's bossy and competitive. Persistent, she seeks perfection in every aspect of her life. "Maybe I'm a little nosy and controlling, but... what mother isn't so?" She justifies herself.

Dina could never see that because of that suffocating control, their grown up children escaped from her side and taking advantage of her aerophobia (fear of flying), and they now have their lives overseas, away from her high demands.

She wants to overcome her phobia and go on a plane to visit their children, but she can't. Besides, they keep giving her all kind of excuses for not visiting her. But Dina will find the way to make them come back, whatever it takes.

Confident about her controlling skills will avoid any disaster, Dina, along with her friends, fakes her own funeral, to make her children come and be together. But, life is full of unexpected situations and what she planned in detail, is now out of her hands... but, really, who could think that this plan will work?

My Amazing Funeral, is a film about love, love from children for her mother, siblings love, love from friends who support each other no matter how crazy everything can be, but most of all, love of a mother for her children. All this of course, from the eye of dark comedy, with a great cast and crew who made it possible.
